Building Permit Revoked For Car Sales Room

Another round in the heated battle between Woodworth Motor Co. and the town came to an end early this week, as the building inspector withdrew the building permit for a new car salesroom he had issued to Woodworth Nov. 5.

It is anticipated that the next round will find Woodworth appearing again before the Board of Appeals, which heard an earlier petition on the same subject.

Background Info

Some weeks ago, Mr. Woodworth asked the Board of Appeals to modify or remove restrictions on the use of a corner lot at Haverhill and No. Main sts., so he could construct a new car sales room. The Board had set restrictions on the property back in 1953, giving Mr. Woodworth the right to use it for the sale of second hand cars within the framework of rigid controls. The Board then specified that construction on the property must be cleared through the Board of Appeals at whatever time Woodworth wished to build.

A few weeks ago, he appeared before the Board asking for this permission. Atty. Halbert Dow and Atty. Walter Tomlinson represented interested parties, both entering some objections to the proposal. Members of the Board of Appeals agreed to meet on another night with Mr. Woodworth, when he was to have plans available for scrutiny.

But shortly before this meeting was due, Atty. Roland Sherman, acting for Woodworth, claimed that a new car sales room is permissible under the zoning by-law regulating the use of the business district. And he withdrew the subject from Appeals Board consideration.

Town Counsel Vincent A. Stulgis ruled, before the Board of Selectmen and the building inspector, that the building can be constructed without permission from the Board of Appeals. And

Neighbor Seeks Water From Us

The town of No. Reading has unofficially asked Andover to supply it with some municipal water during its current emergency.

Henry E. Stickney, chairman of that community's Board of Public Works, appeared before his local counterparts Monday night to ask for an unofficial expression of opinion on the subject. He explained that the No. Reading Finance Committee wanted some preliminary information, while it considers a No. Reading BPW request for $12-15,000 to tie into the water main now dead ended in Gould rd., Andover. Teaching would appear to be the most popular career among students at the high school, based on their choice of Career Day

Next in line of popularity, with 58 students, were lectures in secretarial work and on being an airline stewardess. Nursing appealed to 56; clerical work was described to 54; and 50 students heard a discussion of engineering.

PTA Heard Talk On State Police

At the recent meeting of the Shawsheen School Parent-Teachers Association, held at the school auditorium, Lt. Daniel Driscoll from the public relations department of the Massachusetts State Police was the speaker.

Lt. Driscoll has had 17 years in state police service in every phase of the work, and he is now the head of the public relations department, Massachusetts Department of Safety. Massachusetts has the oldest state police system in the nation, and it dates back to 1865 when the law enforcement officer was given statewide jurisdiction. The force started with 50 men and has increased through the years to 494 members now. One of the many interesting facts Lt.

Driscoll pointed out is that there are 102 towns in Massachusetts today which are without any law enforcement officer whatsoever except the State Police. In the Eastern part of Massachusetts, their work is mostly patrolling highways while in the Western part of the state they still have to do all types of police work. In 1930 this state employed two state police women, and now has eight, and is one of the few states in the country having women as state police officers.

After Lt. Driscoll's talk he showed a very interesting film entitled "A Chosen Career" which showed the rigorous training a man must go through in order to successfully complete the requirements of mental and physical fitness demanded of a state police officer.

This was "Fathers' Night" at P.T.A. The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Danahy's first grade.

A short business meeting was conducted by Charles Adams, president, and plans for the December meeting which will be held Dec.
10 were announced. This will be the Christmas meeting, and an appropriate program is being planned.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality chairman, Mrs.
James O'Reilly and Mrs. Ernest Krakauer, assisted by the third-grade mothers.

FLAT RATE FOR WATER USE SEEMS ASSURED

Water rates - at least the amount paid for use of water above the minimum - seem certain to be up by Jan. 1.

The Board of Public Works, on recommendation of Supt.
Donald Bassett, have authorized a detailed cost survey of the present system by Camp, Dresser and McKee, consulting engineers. Members of the Board appear to agree that a revision of the rate - probably to a flat rate for all users - will be necessary.

But they have not agreed on the rate itself - whether it should be 20¢, 21¢ or higher.

Bassett said his recommendations for an increase result from the cost of producing water, an amount now far in excess of the income from water users. A flat rate, he explained, will mean that the person using a minimum amount will pay about the same as at present, while those using added amounts will pay more.

Present rate schedules show a sliding scale, with the largest users paying just over 12¢ per 100 cubic feet, as opposed to the 21¢ rate for the minimum amount.

PERMIT REVOKED FOR SHOWROOM

the permit was granted by Inspector Ernest Hall.

All during last week there were meetings at which the subject was further discussed, among members of the Board of Appeals, Selectmen and interested lawyers.

And this Monday, the building inspector officially revoked the permit, stating that Woodworth would have to clear the subject with the Board of Appeals before another permit can be issued.

It was known that town counsel maintained that no Appeals Board action is needed, while lawyers sitting on the Board believe it is, on the basis of the 1953 decision and on conflicting sections of the zoning by-law.

Stulgis had said last week that the original ruling of the Appeals Board was "arbitrary and capricious" in setting forth such rigid restrictions on use of the then-vacant lot of land. He claimed that section eight of the by-law covers construction for the purpose designated by the motor company, while members of the Board of Appeals claim that section seven also covers this subject, but more specifically and in a different manner.

When the hearing was held a few weeks ago, Atty. Tomlinson, an associate member of the Board of Appeals, represented the insurance companies and registered objections to Woodworth's ideas. An associate member of the Appeals Board hears cases when a regular member can not be present. The three regular members, Atty. Alfred Fuller, Atty. Joseph Bacigalupo and Edward P. Hall, were sitting on the Board the night of the hearing.

Same Treatment Urged

In addition to the legal battling, there has been some feeling expressed that no more restrictions should be placed on the use of that piece of property than have been placed against others. Atty. Stulgis, at the meeting Nov. 10, explained that considerable comment and several complaints had been heard when the dry cleaning establishment was being built on No. Main st. But he said there had been no grounds on which that project could be restricted. "You can't make fish of one and fowl of another", he asserted, as he continued to press his claim that Woodworth could legally build a sales room for new cars without Appeal Board approval.

The letter from Mr. Hall revoking the permit, read:

"Your permit 122 for a motor vehicle salesroom is hereby recalled until such time as you clear your application with the Board of Appeals of the Town of Andover.

"My reasons for revoking this permit are:

"Section VI, Paragraph 7, of the Town of Andover By-Laws of 1950 which says that a permit is required from the Board of Appeals for a salesroom for motor vehicles.

"Also, restrictions put on this property by a decision in 1953 by the Board of Appeals which reads as follows: 'That no building shall be erected thereupon except after a public hearing and permit issued by the then existing Board of Appeals under the Zoning By-Laws of the Town of Andover.'"

No. Andover Is Next Opponent

A fire-up team faces No. Andover next Thursday morning at the No. Andover field, in the final Little Three game of the season.

The Blue Devils hit the victory trail last Saturday, picking up a 20-6 win over Cambridge Latin. It was their first win since the opening game with Danvers.

Interceptions played a big part in the victory.

Jim Dowd picked off the first interception in the second quarter.

The play came at the Latin 45 and Dowd carried it to the 19. Jim McKiniry gained to the five and Fred Allen took it over on the next play. A Dowd-to-Capt. Dave Pearson pass made it 8-0.

Cambridge came right back to make it 8-6 with Smith belting over from the seven.

In the third quarter Guard Gordon Coutts intercepted a Latin pass at the latter's 38. The Andover drive which followed was climaxed by Bob Haggerty's 15-yard scoring run.

Dowd came up with his second key interception in the fourth session; this time at the Cambridge 45. Dowd then passed to Pearson and the play carried to the Latin five. McKiniry then belted over.

Suggests New Trustee Duties

The trustees of the Punchard Free School have been offered a suggested method of continuing their duties, with added "dignity," by School Committee Secretary William A. Doherty.

Mr. Doherty outlined the idea briefly to members of the Committee and, with their approval, made some definite suggestions to the trustees involving the establishment of high scholastic standards for students, who would receive a diploma from the Punchard Free School if they met the requirements.

The Townsman this week asked Mr. Doherty to outline his ideas, which have been transmitted to the trustees for consideration.

Mr. Doherty's letter, explaining the plan and offering some of the background, follows:

"First, let us consider for many years the school operated as the Punchard Free School and then for many years as the Punchard Free School and Punchard High School. It is now in effect Andover High School and Punchard Free School; for in effect nothing has been changed but the building, the site of the building, and the name. The old records and the faculty, — all that made up the school — remain the same, in a new home, on a new street, and with a new name. Can we ever change the things which were in essence the very school itself? What makes up a school? Is it not in a great measure its tradition? Are we going to throw out 100 years of tradition, we who have lived here all our lives? We hear tradition pooh-poohed, but people have been coming into Andover from all over the country and buying homes here because they like our town, the way it has been run, and all that it is, largely because of our rich traditions. Then, I say that the time has come for us to rise up and hold on to the fine old traditions which some would take from us.

"Like myself, my three brothers and my sister graduated from the Punchard School. There are many families in town with a similar record. I dare say that we think in terms of having attended and having graduated from Punchard High School, although in reality we attended and graduated from two schools at the same time. Punchard High School and the Punchard Free School. The name 'Punchard' in its fullest meaning will always be cherished by us all.

"Today, we find that we have a new name, (Andover High School), a new building, and a new site. True, 'Punchard' to us will always mean the old building at the old site. It was the scene of our joys and glories. We can accept no other. Therefore, with the change which had to come, it is indeed fitting that the name be changed from Punchard High School to Andover High School. This change has many good points. It more easily identifies the School as far as athletic contests with other schools are concerned, and it also more easily identifies it in dealings with the colleges. We still have the Punchard Free School, the records, the faculty.

"I propose that we raise the Punchard Free School and its Trustees to a dignity which they have not held for many years. I suggest that the Trustees set up their own set of scholastic standards to be attained by those eligible for a diploma or certificate from the Punchard Free School. This would be in addition to the diploma from Andover High School. You might restore the standards of many years ago, when the Trustees operated a strictly classical school. You might require four years of English, four years of Latin, four years of mathematics, four years of science, four years of history, and/or four years of a modern language. You could set your own requirements in scholarship. It could well be a school of high scholastic standards within Andover High School, which is operated by the School Committee as a public High School, forced by necessity to accept all students and to give them courses to suit their individual needs. It would entail no difficulties on the part of the Trustees, for the school, the faculty. All necessary facilities are there. The Trustees could have an understanding with the headmaster and such members of the faculty as would teach the courses in question. Any student fulfilling the basic requirements of four years of English, and one year of American History can graduate from Andover High School, (a public High School), provided that the necessary credits are made up in a conglomeration of subjects; but only those meeting the standards of scholarship as set up by the faculty and approved by the Trustees would graduate from the Punchard Free School. I submit that we need a return to the classics especially in this age, when such great stress is placed upon science which we all realize is important. We could let Andover High School stress the sciences and the Punchard Free School stress the classics.

"I present these suggestions in all humility. Please accept them merely as my thoughts. The decision, certainly, is the Trustees to make.

"I would add that members of the School Committee have expressed favor of having the Trustees place a plaque in the new high school commemorating Benjamin Punchard, perhaps giving a brief history of the Punchard Free School and such data as the Trustees might see fit to incorporate thereon."

A recount of votes in the senatorial contest, between Charles Anthony of Haverhill and the apparently-successful James P. Rurak, also of Haverhill, will be held tonight in the town hall, starting at 7 p.m.

Will Discuss Regional Group

Officials of all Greater Lawrence communities will gather this month to further discuss the proposed Greater Lawrence Regional Industrial Development Committee.

Since this idea was suggested many months ago, a small committee has been preparing legislation that could be approved by the communities, after gaining the approval of the legislature in Boston.

The bill would authorize a 13-member committee, with four from Lawrence and three from each of the three towns.

Lawrence would pay half of the cost of this committee, with the towns paying an equal share of the remaining half. The amount of money spent by each community would be determined by its own town meeting or, in Lawrence, by the city council. But the share for each town would not exceed $7,500, under the bill. This maximum figure would not be reached for three to five years.

Under the proposal, the organization would include an executive committee including two representatives from Lawrence and one from each of the towns.

The meeting will be held at a date to be set by Mayor John J. Buckley, and will include legislators, city and town officials and community leaders.

Friends of Mrs. Archie West formerly of Blood st., will be sorry to learn that she is a medical patient at the Cole Sanatorium.

Woodworth Motors Awarded Chevrolet Franchise

Woodworth Motors, Inc., 399 North Main st. in Shawshoen Village, Cadillac dealer to Greater Lawrence for over 22 years, has been awarded the Chevrolet car and truck franchise for Andover.

Considerable alteration is presently being made at the big garage on No. Main st. to accommodate both sales and service for the Chevrolet in addition to the Cadillac line. A new service department for both Cadillac and Chevrolet will be located on the entire lower floor of the present building with entrance for service at the rear of the building on Riverina rd. Chevrolet and Cadillac showrooms will occupy the main floor as will a choice inventory of used cars.

Elaborate future plans for a glassed-in showroom at the corner of No. Main and Haverhill sts. are being finalized.

The elegant new Chevrolet will be on display Monday, November 24th. Adv.

Now is the time of year to remember old friendships

And the warmest way to "keep in touch" with family and friends far away is by telephone. Nothing is quite so real ... quite so friendly ... as the sound of your voice.

There's no need to wait for the actual holidays to call. This is the holiday season. This time of year, every day is a good day to call old friends. Remember, long distance rates are especially low every night and on Sundays.

You can call coast-to-coast for $2.00 or less for the first 3 minutes - station-to-station, nights and Sundays, excluding federal excise tax.

interest to all age groups. The primary group, which includes children six to nine years of age, have bowling, painting, ping pong and story-telling. There is a junior group of boys and girls, 10 to 12 years of age. The intermediate group is 13 to 15 and the senior group consists of boys and girls 15 years and older.

The center is open daily from 2:30-9, with the exception of Friday night when it closes at six and on Saturday, it opens at one. Dances are held at the Center on the average of every two weeks and they are scheduled from 7:30-10:30. There is bowling, ping pong, painting, gymnastics and rollerskating for all age groups. Basketball is a very popular sport with the senior and intermediate boys. They participate in Inter-League Youth Center games referred by Mr. Steeves. There is also instruction in boxing and wrestling for the boys. One of the very popular activities at the Youth Center, which was slated to start Tuesday, Nov. 18, is the swimming lessons. These are conducted at the Phillips pool, with competent instructors. They are for boys and girls 12 years and older and registration may be made at the Youth Center. The boys class is held at 4:45 and the girls at 5:45.

Any children interested in learning more about the activities of the Youth Center should contact Donald D. Dunn at the Center on Brook st.

NO. READING WANTS WATER

a special town meeting in No. Reading within a few weeks to consider this request.

Members of the Board of Public Works told Mr. Stickney they were sympathetic and, without making specific promises, said they would seriously consider whatever application may come from his town. They asked that he write a formal letter, asking for the water, so that a written decision may be sent.

The local Board also indicated that it would be guided by the recommendations of its consulting engineers and would not make any promises that involved selling water during a period of need within the community. Thus, they said, any agreement must be of such a nature that it can be cancelled at any time.

Under discussion but without decision, was the amount of 200,000 gallons daily - an amount that falls readily within the capability of the local supply, according to the BPW. Members have several times explained that the town could spare this amount of water and get some revenue from selling it, until such a time as the town demand requires using the entire supply here.

It was also pointed out that any connection between the two water supplies would be good, in case Andover should at some time be able to draw water from No. Reading. Pipes are now tied into both the Lawrence and No. Andover systems, it was explained. There occasionally has been some use of water from these communities and they have sometimes used some local water in return.

While no specific promises have been made, Board members told Mr. Stickney that he should send along his formal letter immediately and could expect an answer within a short time.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Teachers' Vote Was Unbelievable

It is incredible that more than 50 teachers in our system voted against merit, as opposed to just over 20 in favor of it.

And it is all the more unbelievable, when one stops to realize that the teachers were given these alternatives: $6,000 basic schedule plus merit; or $6,000 basic schedule, period. How could they possibly lose, with those alternatives, in voting for a merit system of salary increases?

But somehow a large majority of the teachers, all members of the Teachers' Association, couldn't see the advantages.

Now, it seems perfectly clear to us that the best teachers should get more money than those with less ability. This rewards the excellent teacher and provides an incentive for others to improve their skills, with a monetary reward forthcoming for doing so. It also acts as an incentive for teachers to join the Andover system, where they can get recognition for their top-notch work.

The Principle Is Good

We did say, a couple of weeks ago, that the merit plan seemed to be, at least temporarily, out of reach, based on the vote of the Association. This still seems valid, because it is difficult to make such a plan work when there is a large segment of the teaching body in opposition. It's too easy, with so much opposition, to have the plan scuttled by ill-timed criticism from within, accompanied by all sorts of speculative comments about the fairness of the evaluation.

But of the value of merit, there is no doubt in our minds at all.

Whether it can work or not, at this time, is another question. For such a program requires the absolute confidence of most residents of the community and of a large majority of the teachers themselves. While we do not suggest that only such ideas as meet with teacher-approval be adopted, we do believe that there must be some acceptance, at least, of the idea before it can be administered properly.

Why The Opposition?

In the light of the teachers' opposition, can we justly draw the conclusion that many teachers fear evaluation because they know they won't measure up to the standards used in evaluating them? This may be true of some.

Can we, then, believe teachers oppose the plan because they feel it won't be fair? This, again, may be true of some. Teachers resting their case on this belief may be converted to a positive approach, if the plan is approved and put into operation.

But in the first group we mention, there perhaps are several reasons why a teacher might fear evaluation: perhaps some few might honestly recognize their moderate ability; others may fear some social stigma if they don't receive recognition on the merit level; others, still, may be entirely too comfortable doing their jobs as they now do them — recognizing that they could gain merit recognition if they wanted to, but they just don't want to work that hard.

These are all possible reasons for voting "no" on the proposal submitted at the Association meeting.

Why Not Force Evaluation?

If these are valid reasons, then shouldn't the community compel all teachers to be evaluated as a means of finding out just how many are actually "excellent" and how many are less able, or perhaps less ambitious?

Wouldn't it be sensible to require a periodic evaluation, so that we could at least assure ourselves that a relatively high percentage of our teachers is staying out of the rut of normalcy and complacency? This regular evaluation might be just the goad that is needed to keep some teachers on their toes, who might otherwise do less of a job than they are able to do.

The town is certainly entitled to know whether 50 or more teachers are below the standards established for excellence and how far below that standard they are.

Sensible Approach Needed

Within the next month or so, most town departments will have prepared their budgets for 1959 — in plenty of time for study by the Finance Committee, which may suggest revisions to the departments prior to the legal deadline for insertion in the annual warrant.

It will be interesting indeed to see the figures for next year — the first since real estate in the community was revalued.

As we stand now, the tax rate is $26; but we understand that when the expenditures voted last March cover a 12-month period, the $26 rate becomes $31 or $32. How much will it be after town meeting next March?

Will the low tax rate operate as a sedative, giving voters the idea it is safe to increase it some, without much harm? This has happened in some communities, where more attention was paid to the tax rate than to the tax bill.

Or will the recent revaluation and subsequent tax bills spur on the advocates of strict economy?

It's difficult to forecast the results of town meeting — but of this we are certain:

There will be requests for capital expenditures, necessary, vital jobs that the town must undertake some day. These, we believe, should be given serious consideration. And we should not let the tax rate or the tax bill deter us from continuing a wise program of municipal improvement. To put off the necessary projects is only inviting greater expense in the years that follow.

It will be necessary, in the few months ahead, to use good judgment, not hindered by emotion. Somehow we must draw the line so that we may progress, with needed expenditures, without being financially irresponsible and increasing the taxes to a point where they can not be paid by many residents.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — November, 1908

The Dove estate on Phillips st. has been sold to Bartlett Hayes.

Harry Fairweather of Brechin ter, is appearing at the Colonial Theatre in impersonations of Harry Lauder, the Scotch comedian.

William McCreadie has established a new record for the Andover to Ballardvale race. Running between the two fire stations, he made it in 13 minutes and five seconds.

Arrangements have been made by the directors of the Guild to install bowling alleys in the gymnasium.

Punchard defeated Methuen, 17-0, and thereby won possession of the Triangular League trophy. This is the third straight year that Punchard has been tops in the League.

The Ballardvale Mills have given each of the employees a turkey for Thanksgiving.

25 Years Ago — November, 1933

The town will receive $22,000 from the government for employing the jobless. The sum is part of 12 million dollars allocated to Massachusetts. Some men are now working in Carmel Woods, cutting brush. Others will be employed on similar tasks and on road projects, once the government has approved the town's work plans.

The Firemen's Ball will be held next Wednesday night at the town hall. A fine concert has been arranged from 8-9 p.m., with dancing to follow until 1 a.m.

The special town meeting, requested by the School Committee to discuss a new structure, has been delayed by the Board of Public Works. That Board has three projects to insert in the warrant, but has not yet agreed on how they will be presented. It is understood that they concern a new reservoir, new pumping equipment and Rogers Brook.

Frank H. Hardy, chairman of the Board of Assessors, has been elected president of the Massachusetts Association.

The town has been without a trial justice since September, with the cases having to be heard in Lawrence. Judge Colver J. Stone's term expired Sept. 10 and Gov. Ely has not appointed anyone. The term is of three years' duration.

10 Years Ago — November, 1948

Punchard topped Methuen in the traditional football rivalry, by a score of 18-6.

A Lawrence man, employed at the Marland Mills, died shortly after admission to the Lawrence General Hospital Monday. A flash fire at the Mill burned him from the waist to the head, authorities stated.

A discussion with other town officials last week about a proposed school survey led to the suggestion that all town departments might benefit from a similar survey. The School Committee has been working on the school survey for some weeks.

Phillips Academy downed Exeter, 28-7, in the 69th game between the two schools. Some 4,500 persons witnessed the contest at Brother's Field.

The Central Parent Teachers Association has 978 members now, an increase of 21 percent. Mrs. Philip Hogan was chairman of the membership drive that produced such a large membership.

Dollars and Sense

Government is the biggest business in Massachusetts — it's a billion dollar business every year.

Cities and towns levy over $670 million a year in taxes, property, poll and motor vehicle.

The state itself collects $630 million a year in taxes and other revenues.

Government is the biggest employer in Massachusetts, 175,000 estimated employees in 1957.

Cities and towns had 139,000, while the state has 36,000 employees.

These same citizen-taxpayers face an immediate period of adjustment amounting almost to a crisis in public finances. Real estate taxes are high and going higher. The state budget is out of balance by at least $30 million with the prospect of a revenue shortage of twice that amount for the next fiscal year.

There are also 60,000 employees of the federal government. State and local government is the business of citizens of Massachusetts, but most citizens get relatively little information about their government.

The Taxpayers Federation is a private organization supported by contributions devoted to the promotion of economy and efficiency in government to the end that Massachusetts may be a better place in which to work and do business. The Federation maintains a full time staff of professionally qualified consultants and researchers who are constantly delving into the facts about government in Massachusetts.

In order that citizens may have the benefit of facts about government developed by the staff of the Federation, the Townsman is going to publish weekly, one or more items prepared for citizen information by the Federation.

SMALL DIFFERENCE MEANS MANY $S

When the Commonwealth of Massachusetts went to the bond market Sept. 24 to borrow $61 million payable over the next 20 years for highway and other construction projects, it had to pay an interest of 3.5 percent. This is one-half of one percent higher than the Commonwealth had to pay when it went to market in mid-April.

One-half of one percent does not sound impressive but it means that the taxpayers of the Commonwealth will have to pay in interest $3 million more over the next 20 years than it would if this money had been borrowed in the spring.

According to the Taxpayers Federation, Massachusetts citizens-taxpayers are going to have to pay about $287 million in interest on state debt between now

Williamson, Francis Zecchini, Richard Slade, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Southworth, William Ford, Col. Arthur Kramer, Dean Ross, Dexter A. Walker, Cliff Emmons, Vernon Remington, John J. Broderick, Bernard Capen, and Stanley Butler. New members are welcome to attend any meeting; the next Monday of every month at 7 o'clock is the time and hour.

Librarian Speaker

Miss Miriam Putnam will speak as one of the two reactors to the speakers at a program of the Boston Public Library Association program on Friday evening, Nov. 21. The speakers, Frank C. Sweetser of Boston University and John B. Davis Jr. of the New England School Development Council will develop the subject "New Sociological Trends in Boston."

and 1980. This is figured just on borrowing which the Legislature has already authorized. Twenty bond issue which the Legislature votes will raise the total.

Interest on $607 million of borrowing for highway construction will cost $199 million, while $488 million of borrowing for all other purposes will cost $88 million.

DAR Heard Talk On U.S. Indians

Mrs. Mary S. Ramsdell, speaker at the November meeting of the Andover Chapter, N.S.D.A., at the home of Mrs. J. J. Sweetser, the secretary.

Her talk was on the Indians, of Indian American Indians, who are known now as Indians with pictures on their faces and their government and their people at the present. Mrs. Ramsdell was formerly the Episcopal mission to the people, and took a trip of last year to see how things were in the various parts. She claimed that the Indians are trying to do in government ought to do in and helping the Indians who have been segregated on the lands of the desert districts in the west, and moved on where was found that there were some other valuable products and, in many cases, she told of the devout of the missions, and Mr. Bishop Moulton, formerly of Grace Church in Lawrence, was work in Utah.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Frank Hayes, the president, with a prayer and a song. The session, Routine business was discussed following a national and patriotic exercise. A letter was read from one of the members who lives out of town who is very much interested in the work the chapter is doing. Gifts for Hillside in Marlboro were brought to the next meeting when it will be State of Dav. This meeting will be the Historical House.

DAR Heard Talk On U.S. Indians

Mrs. Mary S. Ramsdell of No. Andover was the speaker at the November meeting of the Andover Ladies Auxiliary, N.S.D.A.R., held at the home of Mrs. Edward Ramsdell, the secretary, on Wednesday.

Her talk was on the American Indians, or Indian Americans as they are known now, and was illustrated with pictures, cards, and written on their treatment by the government and their way of life at the present. Mrs. Ramsdell talked primarily about the Navajo, but she included all tribes, mostly of the Southwest, in her interesting lecture.

Mrs. Ramsdell was formerly with the Episcopal mission to these people, and took a trip out west last year to see how things were progressing in the various reservations. She claimed that the Indians are trying to do what the government ought to do in educating and helping the Indians, who have been segregated on the worst parts of the desert districts in the far west, and moved on whenever it was found that there was oil or some other valuable product on their land, in many cases.

She told of the devout workers of the missions, and mentioned Miss Moulton, formerly rector of Grace Church in Lawrence, and her work in Utah.

The meeting was opened at 2 by Mrs. Frank Hayes, the regent, with a prayer, preceding the business session. Routine matters were discussed following the devotional and patriotic exercises. A letter was read from one of the members who lives out of town, and who is very much interested in the work the chapter is trying to do. Gifts for Hillside School for boys in Marlboro will be presented at the next meeting Dec. 9 when it will be State Officers Day. This meeting will be held at the Historical House.

Dow Received Drain Contract

The Board of Public Works, at a business session last week, awarded the contract for the Bancroft drain projects to the Dow Co. of Methuen on its low bid of $3,256.

The project is designed to create a drain in which to empty the reservoir for cleaning purposes. Originally, the water was allowed to flow into a brook and to overflow the hayfields of the area. Now, however, homes have replaced the hay producing areas. The rather haphazard overflowing of the water can no longer be permitted.

Originally, the Board of Public Works planned the installation of a pipe along the whole length of the road. However, since there was not enough money available, the board offered specifications calling for an open ditch for some 636 feet with the balance piped. This latter project was bid on as alternate B.

The bids on alternate B specifications were as follows: Dow Co., $5,281; Cronin Co., $5,660; Cyr Co., $7,192.40; and Galligan Co., $7,223.

As a further means of cutting expenses, the board voted to eliminate the requirement of a paved ditch. The result accordingly was as follows: Dow, $3,256; Cronin, $3,635; Galligan, $3,848; and Cyr, $4,897.40.

The bid was awarded to the Dow Co. on recommendation of Camp, Dresser and McKee, engineer consultants and Donald Bassett, Water Department superintendent.

Jaycees Want Support For Christmas Shopping Tour

A Christmas Shopping Tour goal of $200 was announced by William E. Hart, general chairman of the Greater Lawrence Junior Chamber of Commerce committee sponsoring the Tour. The money will be raised by public contributions.

The Christmas Shopping Tour is a project to give under-privileged youngsters the opportunity to buy presents for their friends and loved ones at Christmas. According to Mr. Hart, the Jaycees plan to take some 30 youngsters on the Tour Dec. 13, giving each $5 to spend. "Of course, the number of youngsters we can take on the Tour depends on the community's response to our fund appeal", states Mr. Hart, "and we hope everyone will be generous as they recall the fun they had as youngsters buying presents for members of their families". Contributions may be sent to Christmas Shopping Tour, Box 265, Andover.

The following committees have been formed to organize the Tour: Arrangements, Raymond Sheehan, Tom McCartney, Leo Turner and Raymond Matchmaker. Manpower, Ralph Stone, Norman Wilson and Harold Allen. Finance, John Keefe, Donald Sullivan and William Moriarty. Publicity, Richard Morrison.

MAY INSPECT PRETTY HOMES

cious living room. Refreshments will be served at the Byers' home and there will also be a sale of Christmas greens and gifts. Orchard Hill, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hill, on Forbes Lane, Andover, is a modern interpretation of the early New England Cape Cod home. A special note of charm and livability is found in the pine-paneled kitchen and the family room which boasts of an old brick hearth and a collection of early Staffordshire "American Marine" china. Surrounding the house, a rustic fence covered with rambling roses and an old-fashioned garden in the rear enhances the New England flavor. The Milton J. Meyers' home at 23 Alden rd., is a minimum-partitioned ranch house whose theme for living is informal and functional. Each room in the house leads a triple life. A special note of interest is the dining table which is a standard size for table tennis, with courts outlined in inlaid teak. The Pease house, 193 Main st., is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Miles Malone. This three-storied wooden house was designed and constructed by the architect, Bailey, and builder David Hidden, who was responsible for several other handsome Andover houses. In the year 1816, Samuel Abbot authorized the Andover Theological Seminary to construct the house on "Faculty Row" for Professor Leonard Woods, one of the original members of the seminary faculty. Dr. Woods remained here, in residence, for over 30 years. His distinguished son, another Leonard Woods, lived here with the family while he was a student and young teacher; later he became a famous president of Bowdoin College. The residence was known as Woods House for many years and some insist on calling it by that name even today. Other well-known members of the Seminary faculty followed the Woods family as residents. Professors Barrows, Mead, Galliver and the Pease family all remained for long terms of years. It was re-named for Professor and Mrs. Pease and this name has been retained officially until now. This house is considered one of the better examples of Andover's many fine "town houses" designed by Bailey and built by Hidden. It has occupied this present site continuously and in much the same, externally, as when Dr. Woods moved in, except that the wing in back of the house was destroyed by fire years ago. The front rooms have not been changed fundamentally; they are well-proportioned and possess that simple elegance which one would expect in such a structure. The house is in good repair and has weathered well its 142 years.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edson Andrews, 57 Central st., Andover, is an old Colonial, the original part of which dates back to 1678. Other rooms were added in the early 1700's and the house was moved to its present location in 1925. As one enters this gracious home the room directly to the left and the one above are those which date back to 1678. The room to the right of the front door boasts its original tea caddy paper and contains many choice pieces of oriental art. The large rear living room is reached through a slate-floored glassed corridor. This distinctive Colonial is a home restored with charm and authority, appropriately furnished with handsome antiques. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tomlinson's tri-level home on a sloping, woodland setting at 53 Cheever cir., provides an inspiring view from the living room and lounge floor-length windows. The focal point of the lounge is an imported functional cabinet of Swedish design containing a bar, TV, radio and hi-fi and refrigerator.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bearse on Johnson st., No. Andover, is an adaptation of an early American cottage, with a white-painted brick exterior. The rooms are on one-step levels and are pine-paneled throughout. Here is found a fascinating collection of shells from the Virgin Islands and an informal landing room used by Mrs. Bearse for her many hobbies, one of which is hooking rugs.

Built about 1773, the Ernest Wilkinson's home at 58 Osgood st., No. Andover, has been beautifully restored. It boasts its original pumpkin pine woodwork and wide pine floors, beamed ceilings and Christian Cross doors. The original kitchen with a Dutch-oven fireplace is now a formal living room featuring a Williamsburg bay window with cathedral ceiling and brick floor. Three of the first floor fireplaces were found to have been painted black which was customary at that time in mourning for George Washington. The present kitchen, which was once the summer kitchen, has been paneled in the wide boards removed from the floor. There is also a barbecue fireplace in the kitchen with a raised hearth. A small solarium with brick floor leads to the old smoke house which is now used as a "keeping room".

Tickets for this tour may be obtained from any member of the Garden Club board, officers of which are: Mrs. Ernest Wilkinson, Mrs. Henry Van Zandt, Mrs. E. Wells McLean, Mrs. Charles Poore, Mrs. Elbert C. Weaver, Mrs. Douglas Byers, Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mrs. Ralph Hill, Mrs. Dudley Robinson, Mrs. Foster Barnard, Mrs. Miles Malone, Mrs. Mitchell Johnson, Mrs. Leslie Hutchinson, Mrs. Wilson Knipe, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. Mitchell Johnson Jr., Mrs. Phillip Clements and Mrs. John Cecil Jr. Tickets are also on sale at the Andover Book Store on Main st. or may be purchased at any one of the open houses Dec. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wood of Chandler rd., visited last week with relatives in Holyoke.

HOW'S THIS FOR FUN? — Straddling a small saddle, this tree climber is easily carried as high as 85 feet, to get to the top of stately elms. The town hired this crane as a swift method of "topping" elms that must come down due to the Dutch elm disease. The crane picks up sections from the top of the tree and swings them to the ground, avoiding the possibility of costly damage to telephone or electric lines. Several trees were "topped" throughout the town. Tree Department crews will finish the job later this year. (Staff Photo)

Special Service Next Thursday

On Thanksgiving Day, the Andover Council of Churches Union Service will be held at 9 a.m. at Christ Episcopal Church.

The service will be led by the host pastor, the Rev. John S. Moses, and the speaker of the morning will be the Rev. Donald J. Ryder, pastor of the Andover Baptist Church.

The offering at the Thanksgiving Day service will be designated to go to the "Share Our Surplus" offering of Church World Service. Through this united effort, the churches of 40 Protestant and Orthodox denominations send surplus United States foods to the needy overseas. In 1957, almost 360 million pounds of foods were sent, valued at over $30 million dollars. Church World Service hopes to better this record in this current year, thus enabling it to better serve the many destitute and hungry people of a revolutionary world.

No Plans To Call Meeting

The Selectmen are not making plans to put garden apartments before the voters at a special town meeting.

Queried Monday night, members of the Board said the subject may come up at the regular town meeting in March. But there was no indication as to whether a town board might sponsor the pertinent zoning article, or whether it will be left to a possible developer to initiate the action.

Chairman Sidney P. White doubted whether a quorum could be obtained for a special meeting, if one were to be called.

It is anticipated that the Industrial Development Commission, asked to study the proposal, will report at a joint meeting with the Selectmen sometime late in December.

It has been intimated strongly by other sources in the town that the developer will not ask the town to undertake zoning for garden apartments, but would be willing to listen to any request to undertake such a project here if the zoning is first accomplished.

At a special town meeting some weeks ago, the project was defeated. Samuel Rosen, who had planned the project, was present at the meeting. It has since been reported that he does not wish to become embroiled in a town dispute and probably would maintain a passive attitude towards the zoning proposals until they are approved or disapproved at a town meeting.
